Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 1, the phrase "such as" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitations following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Chalvignac et al. (6,164,141) (hereinafter Chalvignac).

Chalvignac teaches a connector (12) for connecting a fluid line to a fluid technology device, having a line connection (24) for fixing a fluid line having a device connection (22) for attachment to a fluid technology device, and having a connection channel (20), which runs between the line connection and the device connection (16) and allows a fluid to flow through, wherein the connector itself is equipped with a volume flow detection device (10), which comprises pressure drop generation means (40) provided in the connection channel and which comprises a bypass channel (26, 28) discharging into the connection channel in the region of the pressure drop generation means at points spaced in the running direction of the connection channel, wherein a mass flow sensor device (col. 2, lines 15-18) on or in the connector is assigned to the bypass channel, said mass flow sensor device being placed outside the connection channel.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 3 and 5-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chavignac.

Chavignac teaches all the features of the instant invention except for the structure of the connector. It would be obvious to a skilled individual to provide a structure that would accommodate the flow sensing device and thus reduce the size since such miniaturization would be helpful in installing the device in an area where not much space is provided. Furthermore, accommodating the sensor within the connector would reduce the additional space required for a separate sensor within a fluid line. As to the type of pressure drop generating means being in the form of a screen, it is known in the flow measuring art that the screen type pressure drop generating means work effectively in generating a pressure drop.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claim 4 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 2855

8. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior arts made available do not teach or fairly suggest, alone or in combination, a second main housing body implemented as a pivot part which is mounted so that it is rotatable on the first main housing body.
